

SKETCH MAP: Foch's designated road

When Foch's reply was sent, La Capelle was still occupied by the Germans. French forward positions, just east of Buironfosse, were about five kilometres away along the road.